Kia ora e te whanau,

A great opportunity to learn about the celestial world of astronomy last week. Our tamariki were given a wonderful experience to learn from one of our locals. Kym Tangihaere shared her experiences and knowledge about astronomy and her role with her mahi. Kym made students think seriously about jobs for the future and not being limited to just things in the local area. Kym, was inspirational to listen to according to some of our senior students. We thank Kym for attending our kura and to her special group of supporters who were welcomed with powhiri.

Thank you whaanau for making contact with the kura through the systems like School Loop App. This makes it easier for us to manage as we can the message which saves us an extra job of trying to call you to check on your tamariki.

Cross Country trainings are going well. There is limited time as next Friday is the Rangitoto Interschools. We will be taking a team to participate. If you are not comfortable with your child attending this event, please let us know so we can work through this process. Rangitoto assure us they will continue to manage as well as they can the precautionary measures of managing Covid under these conditions.

The weather is cooler and with the rains coming through, the likelihood of getting sick increases. Please remain dry and warm to stay well.

Attendance:

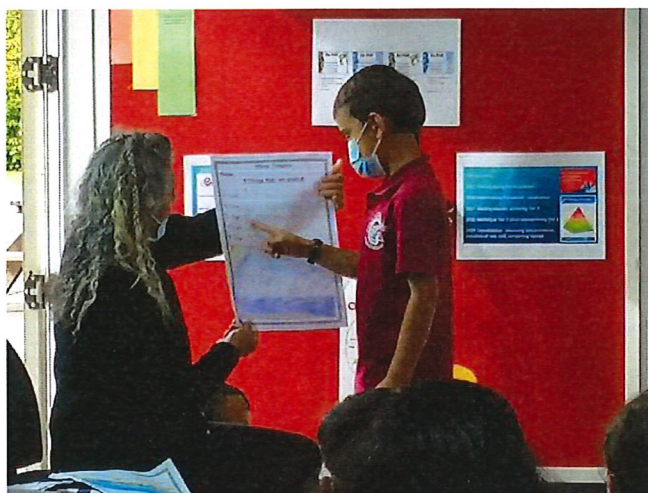

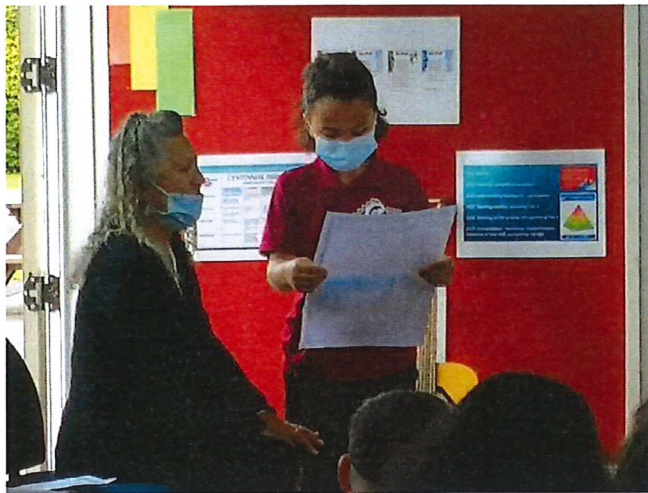

We monitor attendance fairly closely and use the information to best change and adjust where needed. We totally support whaanau keeping tamariki away from kura if they are unwell or have tested positive for Covid.

The information we gather identifies where areas of concern are and if learning materials are needed. For example, if a child is not feeling unwell and is a close contact to someone in the home who has tested positive, they can still be learning from home. We call this 'Hybrid Learning'. We code it differently on our records so we can monitor patterns and trends at the kura. This information is used to address our needs as things unfold.

We would like to thank and acknowledge whaanau for contacting the kura either by School Loop App or txt or email or phone to let us know about your tamariki being away from kura.

Please also another reminder to all whaanau. Please sign in when calling into the kura during the day before school ends. We must have a registrar signed to record people on site. Please always call into the school admin office and not go straight to classes - Many thanks
