Maniapoto Primary Schools Cultural Festival Let's celebrate together...

A busy Thursday night with food preparation. The team prepacked kai for morning tea for all the schools in attendance. This was very well received. Many thanks to Whaea Chanell and everyone helping out. It was so good...

28th November 2023

Kia ora e te whanau,

'Thank you'

How do you show real appreciation to our whaanau, students, staff and community groups for what unfolded last Friday.

A simple 'Thank you' does not seem enough for all the work and commitment that was required to make the Festival the success it was. I have received multiple emails from the many Schools that participated acknowledging the people behind the scene. Those in the front and out the back for all the mahi and then some.

Special thanks go to our past students such as our MC's and our chaperones who guided our groups and whaanau. It was a huge undertaking and we have learnt a lot from this experience. We tried a few different things like transitions outdoors via the tents. We can always make improvements and we will embrace this as we move forward. Again, many thanks to our community of whaanau, staff and supporters who contributed in so many ways.

To our wonderful sponsors either through funding or materials, thank you very much. We will be sending letters of thanks and acknowledgement to you all.

We have 3 weeks to go until the end of the year. Reports are nearing completion and will be posted home next week. The sports assembly and final assembly will be in the final week of term.

Exhaustion and tiredness are creeping in so thank you for working with us and maintaining your patience as we prepare for the end of year. Stay safe whaanau.

Kevin Ikin, Principal

Fruit and water were provided to all schools to maintain a healthy focus for our tamariki

Our junior boys preparing for their performance on stage. Many thanks to everyone setting them up and to Aroha Wehi for the transition onto stage.

Our Juniors on stage were the first school performance following the combined choir group.

The crowd was very appreciative of all the schools on show. Acknowledging their performances and celebrating together

Not many spare seats left. Many of our kaumatua left feeling very proud of their moko.

Our tuakana (senior students) closed off the day with the final performance of the day. A huge 'Paki Up' to our tutors Whaea Geneva and Matua Lucky
